Athletics and Giants to Meet in Odd Contest for Title.

First Was Played in 1905 and Second Was in 1911.

Christy Mathewson Defeated Athletics in First.

Master Brains of McGraw and Connie Mack to Final Test.

New York, Oct. 6 .- When the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants meet in the initial game of the 1913 world's series on Tuesday, a peculiar combination of baseball complications will be resumed after the lapse of two years. To begin with the coming series will be in the nature of rubber match since these two clubs have twice before figured in world's series and each has a championship to its credit. In 1905, two years after the opening of the existing series between the National and American League pennant winners, the Philadelphia and New York clubs were the contenders The Giants triumphed in what in many respects was the most sensational the series was a shutout.

Joe McGinnity, the Giants' "Iron Man," was at the height of his pitch-Man," was at the height of his pitching career while Christy Mathewson was just developing into a master twirler. McGinnity officiated at the Polo grounds games while Matty did the pitching for the Giants in Philadelphia. These two famous boxmen proved effective in every game except the second, when Connie Mack's Indian hurler, Bender, did even better, winning a 3 to 0 victory for his club, the only one gained by the Athletics. The scores in the remarkable series were as follows: New York 3, Philadelphia 0: follows: New York 3, Philadelphia 0; Shutout and allowed but four safe hits.

The only run made by the Toneka Philadelphia 3, New York 0; New York 1. Philadelphia 0; New York 2, Philadelphia 0. Connie Mack and his Athletics had to wait six years for revenge but they did not forget and in the autumn of 1911 philadelphia wan the world's cham-Philadelphia won the world's cham-pionship at the expense of the Giants in such a decisive manner as to leave no question as to which was the better team. In a six game series the Athletics won four. All the games, with one exception, were close, the victor's margin never exceeding two runs and two games went into extra innings. The exception was the final contest played at Philadelphia, when the Athletics broke down the Giants defense and won by a score of 13 to 2. Of all the players who participated in the 1905 series but five wear the uniforms of the Athletics and Giants toforms of the Athletics and Giants to-day. Danny Murphy, who played second base; Davis of first base fame, and the two pitchers, Bender and Plank, the Philadelphia veterans, while are the Philadelphia veterans, while Mathewson is the sole survivor of the New York team which won the world's highest baseball honors but eight years ago. Of the 29 players who figured in series of 1911 between these two clubs, four are missing from the ranks clubs, four are incompleted of eligibles for the present conflict. Outclassed by Cornhuskers, but Fought Them Valiantly.

Played in Mud and Were Handicapped-Couldn't Use Speed.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 6.-Washburn college met the mighty Nebraska eleven on the gridiron Saturday in the first contest of the local football season and was sent back defeated. But the score of 19 to 0, by which Nebraska won, is not significant of the terrific battle that the lighter Washburn men put up against their heavy foes on a field practically a sea of mud.

Rain pouring down the greater part of the night and a portion of the morn ing made the gridiron heavy and soggy End runs were not to be attempted and speed in getting down the field to nab a forward pass or nail a receiver of a punt were things scarcely to be thought of.

Led by Halfbacks Hardy and Bearg and Quarterback Elbe, the Washburn eleven fought the Nebraskans until the last whistle was blown and at that juncture in the game Washburn had the ball on the Cornhuskers' 13-yard line. A minute before that the ball had been carried to the Nebraskan's 3-yard line, where it might have been pushed over had the condition of the field been given consideration. Time and time again after Nebraska made the last touchdown, Bearg and Hardy ripped through the Nebraska forwards for good gains, and when the Cornhuskers were given a pair of severe penalties for holding, the Washburn squad had the ball under the shadow of the Nebraska goal posts.

Disregarding the muddy field, and their previous success in plunges off tackle and through center, Hardy attempted to skirt the Nebraska left wing, and Beck threw him back for a ten-yard loss. There time was called. Had the play been through the line, washburn might have scored.

Nebraska opened up with an attack on the Washburn line, ripping through center and guard and after once carry ing the ball to the Washburn line and osing it on an incomplete pass, Purdy plunged over the line, fumbled the ova and Towle fell on it. Goal was missed.

The Second Quarter. The second quarter was a repetition of the first. Washburn had trouble gaining on the Cornhuskers and were forced to punt frequently, and here the uck again turned against the visitors Billings' boots were wild, the ball con-stantly going out of bounds. A series of bucks through tackle, and Purdy's Towle's and Rutherford's plunger through center and guard, sent Towle over for the second touchdown early in the second period. Goal was kicked. Coach Stiehm sent in a number of substitutes at this point in the fracas and the battle waged on even terms after that, the third quarter resolving itself into a punting duel, with Washburn men gaining on the Cornhuskers throughout Captain Rodgers plunged through for small gains, on tackle around and tackle-back plays, but the halfbacks, Hardy and Bearg, were the only men who could lug the ball to gain.

Nebraska gained possession of the ball in the fourth period and bucked it straight down the field, with one or two forward passes which were for her two forward passes, which were for but short distances, and registered again, but missed the goal.

The brilliant work of the Washburn team, which seemed to find the weak points in the Nebraska line at this point, was demonstrated, and with but a few minutes left they battled their way across the field, but time cut short their apparent possibility to score

KANSAS WON GAME.

William Jewell.

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 6.-The William Jewell eleven sprung a big surprise Saturday afternoon by holding the Jayhawkers scoreless for three quarters in a steady downpour of rain, and were only forced down to defeat by Kansas when Greenlees finally lugged the pigskin across the Baptist's goal line for University of Kansas 7. William Jewell 0. a touchdown, which gave the Kansans Harvard 14. Bates 0. Lawrence on the part of William Jewell to blight the Jayhawkers' prospects. McCook field was heavy under the mud, this putting the immense "beef" of the Kansas' to big disadvantage. Fumbles and misplays by both teams were common. At no time during the first three quarters was either goal imminently threatened with a touchdown by the opposing elevens, although the Jayhawkers attempted one place kick and one drop kick. Kansas could not push the ball further than William Jewell's 20-yard line, and the Baptists were never closer to the Jayhawker goal post than 25 yards. However, with the fourth quarter the Baptists weakened and through a series of consistent gains the Jayhawk-ers pushed the pigskin up to William Jewell's 3-yard line, including a suc-cessful forward pass, Wilson to Stuewe, which netted 10 yards and first down. Kansas was penalized 5 yards for being offside, which took the ball back to the Baptists' 8-yard line. Green-lees made two yards and a five-yard penalty on William Jewell again took the pigskin to win a hair's breadth of a touchdown. Greenlees then forced the oval over, which saved the Kansans Christian Brothers college 14. Central tie was blown Kansas had the pigskin on William Jewell's 18-yard line. KANSAS. Reber-Left end.
